Thruway Section Gets $66,000 in Revenue

Albany, July 3 (P)—The state thruway's first week of toll operations has returned more than $66,000 in revenue.

The Thruway Authority reported yesterday that traffic was heavier than expected over the newly opened 115-mile section between Lowell, Oneida county, and West Henrietta, Monroe county.

Authority chairman Bertram D. Tallamy said that during the first seven days the Authority sold 63,977 vehicle trip tickets for $34,661 and 4,025 $8 permits entitling holders to unlimited use of the Buffalo-Suffern section for the rest of the year.

Market Nears '29 Heights Prior to Brief Hesitation

Stock Average Shade Below High Point Reached 25 Years Ago; Climb Has Been Steady

New York, July 3 (P)—The stock market hesitated this week near the top of an advance that in the first six months of this year sent the averages to new heights territory since the dizzy heights of 1929.

The hesitation was brief—as the week ended shares were headed up again.

The persistent climb had its start in September. Shares opened the New Year strong and just kept going up. As the first six months of 1954 ended, The Associated Press average of 60 important stocks stood just a shade below its high point since Oct. 22, 1929.

Wave of Selling

That point—$128.30—was reached on Tuesday of this week. Interestingly enough, it came on a day when the market was hit by a wave of selling that left the ticker unable to keep abreast of transactions. Yet by the end of the day, a broad rally was under way and the market closed higher.

There were other signs of bull market fever this week. For no reason anyone could point to, a single point soared 15½ points in a single day. It subsequently dropped but was up again as the week ended.

Another feature of the week was Pacific Mills. When M. Lowenstein & Sons Inc. offered to buy the company at $45 a share, Pacific Mills climbed 4½ to 37 within 15 minutes. It gave up a part of this gain later.

Oil Under Pressure

The oil shares were under pressure for a good part of the week, reflecting reductions in gasoline and fuel oil prices. They managed a good comeback on Friday, however.

This week also saw a new labor contract signed by the steel industry and a raising of steel prices. In Washington, hopes for worthwhile tax relief on dividend income faded as the Senate passed the tax bill and sent it to a joint conference committee with the House.

The market's performance in the first six months frequently baffled the man on the street—and veteran market analysts as well. (Continued on Page 5, Col. 7)

Red Cross Stresses Safety for Travel Over 4th Weekend

Sanford Gives Tips About Traveling on Roads, Urges Prevention of All Mishaps

Harold A. Sanford, first aid chairman of the Ulster County Chapter, American Red Cross, calls attention to the holiday hazards which accompany the July Fourth weekend, chances which people who travel the highways face and also those who stay at home.

"A few common-sense precautions can prevent a lot of common accidents", he advises. Among the more common accidents which may happen are sunstroke, strains, sprains, broken bones and effects of over exertion.

On the highway he advises to drive carefully and have adequate first-aid supplies handy.

Advice on Emergencies

The following advice is advanced to cope with many of the common emergencies:

If, in spite of your precautions, an accident occurs where you are in a position to help, don't panic—take it easy. The immediate care given to accident victims within the first few seconds may make the difference between living and dying. Even persons with no first aid training can be of some help (Continued on Page 5, Col. 5)

Pine Bush Fire Loss Estimated at $40,000

Pine Bush, July 3 (P)—A two-story frame building housing a hardware and building supply store was destroyed last night by fire.

Ralph Brach, store owner, estimated damage at $40,000.

Stores adjacent to the burned building were not damaged. Fire companies from nearby Walden, Montgomery and Circleville helped local firemen fight the blaze.

The cause of the fire was not immediately determined.

Compact Freight Train

Farmers Assured Milk Market Rules Are Sure to Stay

Governor Tells Newsmen He'll Wait to Make Plans Public on Running

Albany, July 3 (P)—Gov. Dewey, skipping over the question of whether he would run for reelection, concentrated today on assuring dairy farmers that milk marketing regulations were here to stay.

The governor told newsmen that Ezra Taft Benson, the U. S. secretary of agriculture, "has not the slightest opposition" to federal state milk marketing orders and "has no intention to limit or restrict them in any way whatsoever."

Dewey's remarks were made at a news conference yesterday afternoon. At his request, newsmen agreed not to publish them until today.

A reporter inquired about talks between Dewey and Rep. Dean P. Taylor of Troy, the Republican state chairman. Taylor has been reported trying to persuade Dewey to run again.

Nothing New

"There is no more news on the subject," Dewey replied. He said he would announce his plans before the GOP state convention in September. There were hints at the conference that some statement from Dewey might be expected next week.

Of fresh reports that he would be named secretary of state to replace John Foster Dulles, the governor said: "Everybody is indulging in pipe dreams—except me."

Dewey, a dairy farmer himself, opened the news conference by saying there was widespread concern among milk producers over reports that Benson was considering scrapping federal-state milk marketing orders. The orders regulate the marketing and pricing of milk in many states, including much of New York.

Dewey declared he had been authorized by Benson to say that the agriculture secretary recognized the orders as "essential to providing a steady flow of milk to consumers and essential to providing stability of prices for consumers."

Dewey Is in Favor

Firemen Are Called For Gas, Wires Trouble

Local firemen responded to two calls yesterday, one a gas odor and the other a report of wires down.

Deputy Chief George Matthews investigated a report of gas in a three-story brick building at 101 Broadway at 9:15 p. m. Cause was reported to be a leaky refrigerator in Rehr's Bakery which occupies part of the building.

A telephone operator notified the Kingston Fire Department at 11:19 p. m. yesterday that wires were down on the roof of a house at 62 Linderman avenue owned and occupied by John Janakis. Both trucks from Wiltwyck Station responded and stood by until the arrival of a Central Hudson crew. It was reported that the service wire had burned off, causing the wires to fall across the roof.

Parades, Programs to Mark Celebration of July Fourth

(By The Associated Press)

Throughout the nation this weekend, Fourth of July celebrations will mostly follow the old-fashioned formula of a parade, fireworks and patriotic speeches.

Celebrations at some of the nation's most historic shrines will keep alive an appreciation of the country's early struggles and the courage required to overcome them.

There will be ceremonies at Valley Forge, where prospects for American success in the war for independence reached their lowest ebb. At the Washington Memorial Chapel there acting Governor Charles E. Johns of Florida will speak.

There will also be other ceremonies at Independence Hall in Philadelphia, home of the Liberty Bell.

Fireworks will light up Boston's famed common, where independence was preached and stoutly defended. At the old State House, now a historical museum, the Declaration of Independence will be read by an honor student from Boston Latin School, the oldest school in the country.

A mammoth fireworks display will be set off on July 5 at the Washington Monument. This usually draws thousands to the center of the nation's capital.

Eisenhower Lot Closer To Tax Win

Experts Well Satisfied With Senate Vote of 63-9 in Favor of Overhaul Bill

Washington, July 3 (P)—President Eisenhower was a big step closer to a substantial victory on 1954 tax legislation today after overwhelming Senate approval of his general tax overhaul bill.

Treasury experts told a newsmen they were well satisfied with the Senate action despite some setbacks.

The Senate passed the bill 63 to 9 yesterday after five days of debate and two months work on the measure by the Senate Finance Committee, which wrote 430 pages of amendments. The complicated legislation is the first general revision of the maze of federal tax laws since 1876.

Relief Provisions Included

Included in the Senate bill, as in the version already okayed by the House, were nearly all of the relief provisions sought by the administration. In addition, the Senate beat back four separate attempts to insert a general income tax cut. The treasury opposed them because of the heavy loss of revenue involved.

The conference between the Senate and House on their somewhat differing measures probably will get under way July 12 after staff experts have had time to prepare line-by-line comparisons.

As passed by the Senate, the bill contains various tax cuts for corporations and individuals totaling some $1,300,000,000 in the next year. The House version embodies a $1,400,000,000 reduction.

Extra Yield

The cost of the treasury would be largely offset the first year by a provision extending the 52 per cent corporation rate to April 1, 1955, rather than letting it drop to 47 per cent. This would yield (Continued on Page 5, Col. 6)

Queen of Dallas Underworld Dies

Woman, Once in Money, Alone and Broke as She Passes at 56

Dallas, July 3 (P)—Maud Lynch, queen of the Dallas underworld and pickpocket deluxe back in Prohibition days, is dead.

Maud died last night. She had been found half-paralyzed in a cheap walk-up hotel. She was 56, broke and alone. Doctors said she apparently suffered a stroke.

A petite young woman with dark chestnut hair, she sported swank black limousines, diamonds worth thousands and white furs back in Texas' roaring twenties and early thirties. She amassed a fortune, police and newspapermen said, as a prostitute, shoplifter and pickpocket.

Famed Pickpocket

Veteran policemen remember her in the twenties as a nimble-fingered pickpocket who stole from many a wealthy customer, lured into her big car by her apparent affluence and genuine beauty.

Mahwah, N. J., July 3 (P)—An empty bus and a passenger car collided head-on on busy Rt. 1 early today, killing four of the five persons who were riding in the car.

Castillo Is Elated Over Red Defeat

Question Is Whether He or Monzon Should Wield Top Power in War-Torn Nation

Guatemala, July 3 (P)—Rebel leader Col. Carlos Castillo Armas planned to fly to this welcome-gear capital today to discuss his role in Guatemala's new anti-Communist government. But dissatisfaction in the ranks of the leader's "liberation army" dimmed the triumph of the occasion.

Castillo acknowledged at his Chiquimula headquarters yesterday that "most of my men are not satisfied with the agreement reached in San Salvador."

The peace pact, signed with Col. Elfigo Monzon in the capital of neighboring El Salvador, patched together a five-man junta. Monzon was allowed to remain on as government chief until the junta elects a permanent head in 15 days.

Castillo was scheduled to arrive in Guatemala City about 1 p. m. (2 p. m. EST) and was expected to return to Chiquimula tonight or early tomorrow. He said he would lead his army into the capital in a week or so.

Both Expected Back

It was not known whether Monzon also planned to return here today.

Both colonels were expected back yesterday, and Guatemala put on a big fiesta to welcome them. The celebration, starting out gaily with popping fireworks and clanging church bells, fizzled out as the two men failed to show up.

Castillo told reporters in Chiquimula his top subordinates had wanted to push ahead with the rebellion until the Guatemalan Army surrendered unconditionally. He said, however, he was satisfied with the settlement ending the two-week revolt because it was victory over the Reds.

Speculate on Power

Still to be resolved was the question of whether Castillo or Monzon would wield top power. Besides the two leaders, the five- (Continued on Page 5, Col. 8)

Tiny Plane Used As Bomber Helps Rout Red Forces

Young Rebel Pilot Is Hero in Riddling Fuel Tanks and Enemy Troops

Chiquimula, Guatemala, July 3 (P)—An affable young rebel pilot is credited with waging a one-man air war that helped blast Guatemalan President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman and his Communist friends out of power.

The airman—identity secret—played havoc with Arbenz's forces from a tiny Cessna single-engine plane whose designer never dreamed it would be used as a dive bomber.

Riddles Fuel Tanks

The pilot fueled his air campaign the day the rebel invasion began—June 18—by swooping low over Guatemala's port of San Jose. He riddled fuel tanks with machine gun bullets, sending up in flames much of Arbenz's previous fuel supply and forcing the government to put a quick ban on use of gasoline by private cars.

Later the young airman sneaked in over Guatemala City and blasted the army's main garrison of Matamoros.

A few days ago, he zoomed over a government troop train speeding reinforcements to the embattled city of Zacapa. He stopped the train with bombs. Then he strafed soldiers fleeing from the wrecked cars.

Bombs From Window

On some missions the pilot took along a bombardier. The latter leaned out of the window when the little plane passed over the target and tossed out a bomb.

Sometimes a 20-pound fragmentation bomb was used. More often the missile consisted of several sticks of dynamite wrapped around a grenade. A string was tied to the grenade. As the parcel dropped earthward the bombardier jerked the cord, thus setting off the blast.

We have watched the setting up of a blueprint for a "Welfare State" for twenty years.

A fool can put on his pants better than another can do it for him.

We have been spoon-fed long enough. It's high time we started to put on our own clothes. Our forebears did not run whimpering to Washington every time the axle of the covered wagon broke.

The Welfare State is the invention of politicians who want to buy power with "Federal aid," and rob the people of their Constitutional rights and their character.

But why stop to split hairs about the personal characteristics of a thief, even if what he steals is your freedom. If he is an elected representative of the people, he deserves greater punishment when he scuttles our Constitution, which he swore on the Bible to uphold and defend, than if he robs a bank.

"Thou shalt not steal," applies to public officials as well as to private individuals. But Collectivists consider it perfectly legitimate for them to seize what they want,—votes—however fraudulently they get them.

Jefferson warned: "In questions of power, let no more be heard of confidence in man, but bind him down from mischief by the chains of the Constitution."

How much welfare will you have when the Constitution no longer restrains men drunk with power?

Israel Bond Drive

Plans for opening of the 1954 Israel bond campaign have been completed and will be announced at a reception Sunday, July 11, in the home of Joseph Levine, chairman, and Mrs. Levine, 105 Mountain View avenue.

Joseph Nedava, noted Israel journalist, author, lecturer and radio commentator, as guest speaker, will explain the bond drive, the central source of investment capital for Israel's historic program of economic development.

Chairman Levine said "the funds derived through the sale of Israel bonds are making possible the growth of industry, the expansion of irrigation and agriculture, the construction of roads, harbors and railways, and the building of new homes to meet the needs of Israel's hundreds of thousands of new citizens."

Confident of Support The chairman added, "I'm confident that the Jewish community of Kingston will rally behind the State of Israel bond drive."

Attorney Nedava, a member of both the British and Israeli bars, is former editor of the Hebrew desk of the Voice of America, and presently is acting as correspondent in the U. S. for several publications and news services in Israel.

He has been diplomatic correspondent and night editor of Haboker, a Hebrew daily in Tel Aviv, and has served as political commentator of Kol Israel, the Israel Broadcasting Service station, and Gaiet Tzahal, the radio station of the Israeli Army.

Attorney Nedava has authored books of his own and translated into Hebrew many novels and political books of other writers, including President Eisenhower. He worked for a year with Dr. Mordecai Elisha, prominent attorney in Israel, who later became Israel's first minister to the Court of St. James in London.

51 Building Permits Issued in June

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy, who is still the city's building inspector until appointment of another in compliance with the new state multiple dwelling law, reported 51 building permits issued in June at a total estimated cost of $152,470.

It was indicated today that consideration has been given the appointment of an inspector, who will operate on a full-time basis to comply with provisions of the multiple dwelling law, but several details are to be worked out before one is named. Phases of the law became effective July 1.

Information available today also indicated that several small cities and other municipalities have not appointed inspectors immediately because of budget problems and inability to find competent inspectors.

Chief Murphy's June report showed the estimated cost of new building $5,203 more than in May. The total included 11 permits for new dwellings at an estimated cost of $95,500, and eight for non-residential buildings at $27,000.

The chief issued 16 permits for alterations, additions and repairs on residential structures at $11,720, and six for the same purposes on non-residential buildings at $7,200.

Three permits were issued for fire escapes at $2,400, two for house trailers at $7,500, and five for oil tanks and burners at $1,650.

Kitchen Planning Tip

When redecorating and remodeling a kitchen, include in the plans plenty of space for work counters on both sides of the range. Counters, which should be covered with a heat resistant surface, can be used for serving food after it is removed from the oven or top burners.

Ounce of Prevention

It is about one-tenth as expensive to waterproof a basement foundation properly when the house is being built as to attempt to remedy dampness and leakage later on, reports one of the experts in the field.

Why Building Booms

During the last decade the number of U. S. families increased from approximately 32 million to 40 million.

Mortgaged Homes

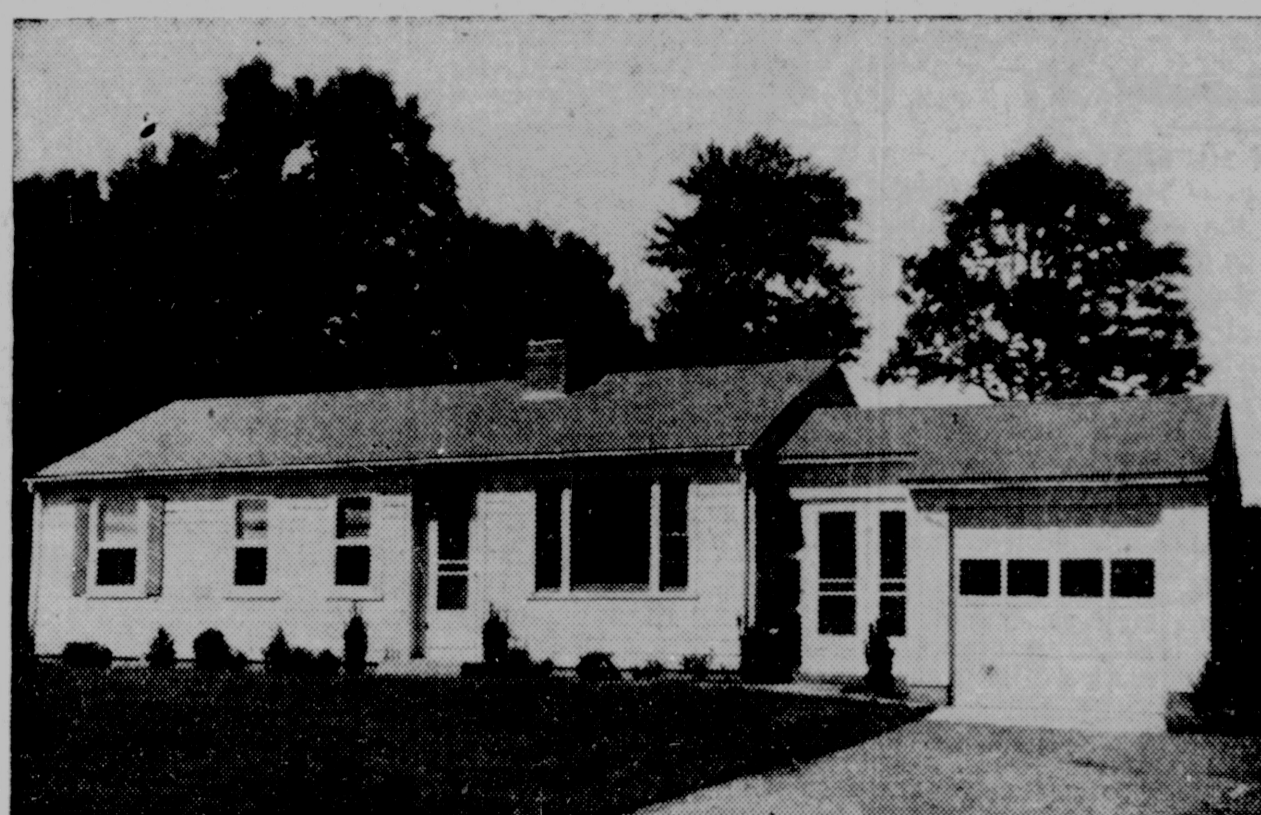

Almost half of the non-farm homes occupied by owners in the United States carry mortgages.

Tail First

A comet's tail always streams out from the comet head in a direction away from the sun, so when a comet is moving away from the sun, its tail precedes its head.

Color Definitions For the Novice

Unless you know the language of color it is difficult to understand and apply much of the wonderful information available. Here is a list of color terms used by the experts. Study them carefully . . . then paste this little glossary in the front of your decorating scrapbook:

Hue: A pure color without black or white added.
Tint: A hue with white added.
Shade: A hue with black added.
Tone: A hue with black and white added.
Value: Lightness or darkness.
Intensity: Brightness or dullness.
Color: A general term applied to the entire family of hues, tints, shades and tones.

Wax Applier Handy House-Cleaning Aid

That long-handled wax applier in your cleaning closet can be a mighty handy house-cleaning assistant when the weather turns hot. Dusting high places and removing cobwebs are two uses to which this long-handled device can be put. Damp-mopping and dust-mopping are two other duties which it handles with ease.

It also can be used in cleaning venetian blinds, wallpaper and large picture frames, washing windows and woodwork.

Too Much Water

Many gardeners injure their dahlias plants by giving them too much water. Keep them well cultivated, but apply moisture only if they show signs of wilting. Then give them enough to penetrate the soil for six or eight inches at one time.

Critical Part of Shower

The floor of a shower cabinet is called a receptor and is a most critical part of the installation, says the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau. The receptor has to form a rigid foundation and must possess strength and solidity. It must be slip-proof.

Clean Exterior Metal

Before painting an exterior metal surface, be sure that it is free from rust and grease. A wire brush is helpful in removing rust, or you can sand it, scrape it, or rub it with pumice stone and water. To wash off grease, use kerosene, turpentine or petroleum thinner.

Removing Insulation

When removing insulation from a wire, never cut the insulation off at right angles to the wire for your knife may nick the wire. Shave off the insulation in the same manner as you would sharpen a pencil.

Tricot in New Width

Seamless acetate tricot draperies designed to cover picture windows with no unsightly middle seam are available in a new width — 152 inches. This is the first time that tricot has been knit in such a great width.

That Ol' Rocker

If you've got a shabby old rocker in your attic, how about coating it with a gay colored washable enamel. It will make a cheery addition to the kitchen or child's room.

In Over-Rich Soil

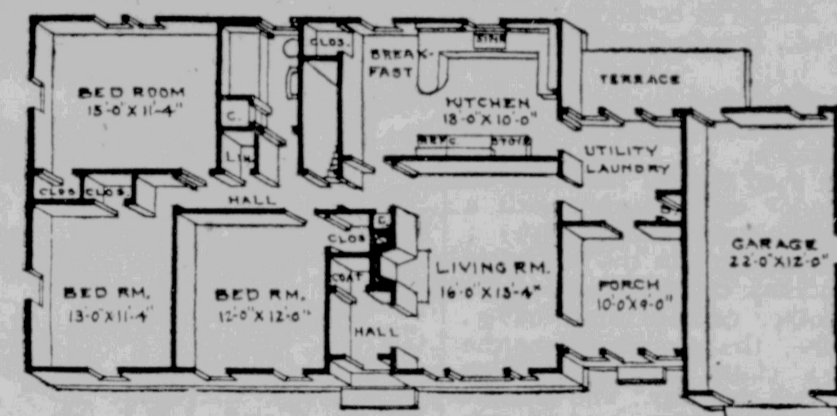

Crops that are planted in ground that is too rich may run to foliage instead of fruit.

Charming in its simplicity

"The Bellewood," presented today by the Home of the Week

Plan Service, is a modern one-story home containing five rooms in the house proper plus an enclosed porch and utility laundry in the connecting wing.

Wood or brick would be an equally attractive exterior finish for a house of this type. The abundance of windows greatly enhances the appearance of the house both outside and inside.

Take this fact into consideration when planning the exterior landscaping, as well as the interior decoration.

90-Foot Lot Needed

To build the house and the attached garage you'll need at least a 90-foot lot. Cubage of the house is 22,872 feet; cubage of the garage is 6,800 feet. Place the house a good distance back from the street to set it off to best advantage.

Three of the rooms inside "The Bellewood" are bedrooms—thus, you're assured of an abundance of comfortable sleeping area. Each of the bedrooms is well ventilated and contains good closet space.

Smallest of the bedrooms—the one that is 12 feet square—can be used as a den or guest room if this better serves your purpose. You'll find the room well-arranged and suited to whatever use you select for it.

Good-Sized Kitchen

Thoroughly modern, the kitchen is good sized. Work counters, cabinets and appliances line the walls. A spacious breakfast nook—where your family will enjoy eating many of its meals—opens off the kitchen.

The back terrace, which is reached from the utility-laundry, can be made just as attractive as you wish. It would make a cool spot in which to serve the night meal during the warm weather.

Since the laundry is located in the house proper, only the heating plant must be installed in the basement of "The Bellewood." This should be placed under the living room. Ample basement space will thus be available for a recreation room and also for storage.

Blueprints Available

Complete plans and specifications for this house and all other "Home of the Week" designs are available at moderate cost.

For plan prices, write to the Home Building Editor, The Kingston Daily Freeman, and enclose a self-addressed, 3c stamped envelope. Allow 7 to 10 days for a reply.

Protect the Skin

Many kinds of insulation used for walls and ceilings can be very irritating to the skin. When working with these materials, be sure that your sleeves are rolled down, your shirt collar is buttoned and that you wear gloves.

Clean Before Painting

Before painting the walls of a room, dust them thoroughly with a dry mop. Except in the kitchen, where walls are likely to have grease on them, they seldom need actual washing with cleansers before they are repainted.

Removing Marks

White marks on furniture can frequently be removed by wiping with a mixture of one teaspoonful of cider vinegar to one quart of water. Be sure to wipe in the direction of the wood grain and then wipe dry.

Antique Finish

Knotty pine can be given an antique looking finish by first sponging the surface with a solution of ammonia. After the wood has become dry, sand lightly and then apply two thin coats of white shellac.

Noisy Faucets

Chattering water faucets can be due to many things and one of them is loose faucet washers. Before you rip out the entire plumbing system, check the washers to be sure they are held tightly in place by the set screw.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, JULY 3, 1954

The Freeman will not be published Monday, July 5 when the Independence Day holiday will be observed.

BOLD WORDS

The words of the Declaration of Independence were bold words and there were many who were frightened by them. Clearly, without equivocation, they broke all ties with England and set aside any possibility of reconciliation with the king. It pitted the volunteers and the militia of the colonies against the best trained and best equipped troops in Europe.

But it was more than the possibility of military defeat and subsequent punishment that worried the faint-hearted. The words of the Declaration were frightening in themselves—the talk of all men being created equal, being endowed with unalienable rights by their Creator, having the right to abolish any government which ignores these rights. To the timid it was safer to have a king and a system of society which decreed what roles men could play.

While the cynics and the fearful bemoaned the rashness of the Declaration other men went off to pay with their lives the obligation they accepted gladly, the obligation to prove that they were worthy of the words that declared their dignity and their liberty.

The ideals proclaimed in that declaration have come down to us as our heritage. They have been reaffirmed in every generation and their price has been paid in blood again and again. It is for us to see that they are passed on intact to those who will be our heirs.

TECHNICAL SHORTAGE

Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson spoke recently on the shortage of men with technical training. He said that on a recent visit to his alma mater, the Carnegie Institute of Technology, he was told that there are an average of three-and-one-half jobs waiting for every member of this year's graduating class. The Secretary said that perhaps more publicity is needed to stimulate interest in engineering and science courses.

Never has youth had greater or more numerous opportunities in the technical fields. This is the age in which scientists and engineers have come into their own. Our mighty machines, our techniques of production, our development of materials all depend upon the know-how of people with technical training. People fortunate enough to have that training enjoy great rewards in salary, possibility for advancement and in satisfactions that come to those who do really useful work.

Colleges and universities are ever on the alert to find new ways to teach engineering and science to vast numbers of people. Special courses are available at many of them for people who want to study particular phases of engineering but who do not have the time or money to spend for an extended college career.

AIR ACADEMY

Colorado Springs will be the site of the new Air-Force academy, soon to take its place with West Point and Annapolis as service schools for training officer personnel for defense. Congress has appropriated $126,000,000 for land acquisition, planning, design and construction.

The first class of 300 cadets will begin their studies in July of 1955 at the temporary site of academy in Denver. It is expected that by 1957 construction at Colorado Springs will be far enough advanced to move classes there.

The establishment of the Air Force academy emphasizes the role air power has come to play in our scheme of national defense. It will put the Air Force on a par with its sister service the Army and the Navy.

The new academy will not be starting devoid of traditions. It will inherit the tradition of courage left by all the brave men

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

SAFETY IN MINERALS

Senator George Malone of Nevada is the only professional engineer in the United States Senate and therefore he brings into that body a point of view which is very different from that of the lawyer. An engineer is trained to deal with facts without poetic license; a lawyer is trained to defend a thesis or to advocate a cause.

The problem that faces Malone's Committee is: precisely what is the situation of the United States with regard to minerals, metals and other strategic materials. This Committee has produced a tremendous volume of technical data, difficult to read at times but all of it extremely important. The assumption has heretofore been that the United States was short of certain strategic materials which could only be made available by overseas commerce which could be shut down swiftly in the event of war. For instance, tin and rubber from Malaya might be withheld from us should Red China come into possession of that country.

According to the Malone report, 77 minerals and materials, included in this report, are vital to the maintenance of the American economy and its prowess as a military force. It lays down this finding absolutely.

The Western Hemisphere will be the only dependable source of the critical raw materials in the event of an all-out world war.

"The delivery of any such critical materials to this Nation across a major ocean during such a conflict will be highly 'problematical.'"

This position is unquestionable in the nature of modern warfare. The oceans can be closed down until one power or the other gets a total victory. The schnorkel submarine, the atomic submarine and the long-distance airplane make the ocean lanes of traffic unsuitable in war. The Pacific Ocean was unsafe for the transportation of supplies of rubber and tin during World War II, with the result that the United States was forced to develop a synthetic rubber industry based on the Baruch Report. It will be forgotten, of course, how Florelo La Guardia desperately collected tin cans in the hope of meeting the tin crisis, cans which eventually helped to fill the Jersey meadows.

The hope of meeting future crises is in a hemispheric cultivation of mineral production and the means for the transportation of minerals and their products without the perils of the seas. The "Europe First" attitude of the State Department resulted not only in the loss of China but also in the partial abandonment of the Latin American countries. This Committee lays emphasis on the importance of regarding the Western Hemisphere and cultivating its economy as a unit. It says:

"It is imperative to the security of this Nation and to the nations of the Western Hemisphere that they foster the greatest measure of self-sufficiency in the production of the critical materials."

"It is vital to our domestic welfare, economy and security that maximum economic production be maintained within our borders."

"The Western Hemisphere can be defended."

"The Western Hemisphere can be made self-sufficient in the production of the critical materials which are essential in war and in peace."

In time of war, there will be no alternative to self-sufficiency. Once the oceans are closed down to commerce, we shall have to exist on what we have within our own boundaries or what we have stockpiled or what we can bring to our smelters and mills from within the Western Hemisphere. Much of our thinking on this subject has been based on the assumption that many strategic minerals were available only in Europe, Asia or Africa.

It is like that famous speech on "acres of diamonds": We seek all over the world for what can be found in our back-yard. The Committee found: "During the last two decades established procurement practices have dangerously increased our dependence upon nations across major oceans for the critical materials without which this Nation cannot survive."

"Evidence is conclusive that we have become dependent upon overseas suppliers across such major oceans for many of our critical materials. We must avoid dependence upon an overseas supplier to the extent that he could suddenly render us impotent by withdrawing supplies of critical materials during a world conflict, or could use such dependence as a political or economic bargaining lever."

The supply of minerals and essential materials is the first task of war preparedness in this age. (Copyright, 1954, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

That Body of Yours

DRUNKEN DRIVERS

I don't think that we will ever become used to the terrible stories in the newspapers of the number of deaths caused by automobile accidents every weekend and particularly over holiday weekends. There is no doubt that many of these deaths need never have occurred—they were caused by drunken drivers.

In an editorial in the Journal of the American Medical Association, we read that the growing use in the United States of chemical tests of the blood, urine and breath for the arrest and prosecution of persons driving who are under the influence of alcoholic beverages have convinced law enforcement agencies and physicians that these tests can effectively aid in protecting the innocent and convicting the guilty.

A close study was made of the court records of all cases involving charges of driving while under the influence of alcohol that appeared before the court of common pleas in New Haven, Conn., during a period of 40 months. It was found that a much higher percentage of people plead guilty when chemical tests are used in evidence. In the cases examined the concentration of alcohol in the blood was found to range from 0.14 to .40% which indicates a consumption of more than one-half pint of whiskey or an equivalent amount of alcoholic beverage of other types.

Another useful test is the breath-testing device. When this test was used, the number of pleas of guilty rose from 23 per cent to 61 per cent.

The fact that so many more people pleaded guilty shows that they realize these findings from tests are true as they correspond to what the persons themselves know they have drunk.

Not only did the number of guilty pleas increase, but there was a great increase in the number of convictions—from 58 per cent to 83 per cent—by both court and jury. It is felt that the increase in convictions was due to the confidence both the court and jury had in the truth shown about the condition of the driver by these chemical tests and their value in backing up other types of evidence. Moreover, the number of cases dismissed for lack of evidence decreased from 22 per cent to none when chemical test evidence was introduced. In general, the over-all rate of convictions for driving while intoxicated rose from 55 to 93 per cent.

Certainly in view of our nation-wide automobile slaughter with its alarming increase, in self-defense more communities everywhere should seriously consider the use of chemical test evidence in drunken driver charges. Also, for those who may be innocent of the charge, it is better to have a scientific test than just an "opinion."

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA) — Quite a lot of grass-roots politics will be played on American farms from July 1 to Dec. 31 this year, and it will have nothing to do with electing a new Congress. It will be a contest over the election of some 9000 county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee members under new rules just laid down by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson.

These committees — ASC committees for short — were called PMA, or Production and Marketing Administration committees in Democratic days from 1945 through 1952. Benson changed the name when he reorganized his department last year.

At that time he took away from the county committees all their former daily duties of administering farm quotas and acreage allotments, leaving only policy making and program direction.

Administration of programs in each county or community was given to an office manager. There are now approximately 3000 of them. They are paid from $2250 to $5000 a year of federal funds. The office managers are hired by report to and work for the county committee.

The criticism of the original Democratic administration PMA committee was a charge that they constituted a huge political "hatchman" machine that reached right down to farm level.

During the 1952 presidential campaign, candidate Eisenhower repeatedly promised that if elected, he would get rid of these "agricultural bureaucrats," meaning the PMA committees.

He promised to return the management of farm problems back to the farmers, and to keep Washington out of it.

Twenty and Ten Years Ago

July 3, 1934 — The Common Council met at the municipal auditorium after a heavy electrical storm had left the city hall without lights.

Mrs. Caroline Akerley died at the home of Mrs. Albert Kelly on Van Deusen street.

A heavy holiday rush was indicated for the area.

July 3, 1944 — More than 300 registered at the high school for summer courses.

Horse races were scheduled at the Rhinebeck driving park for July 4.

The county was reported eighth in the state in sale of bonds in the Fifth War Loan drive.

Kingston men of the State Guard were due to return from training at Camp Smith near Peekskill on July 6.

When Benson installed his system of office managers, the Democrats screamed right back even louder.

If their system had had political implications, the Republican system was called even more political. It was said to create 3000 new jobs for deserving Republicans.

Here, it was said, was the making of a real political machine, at an additional cost to the taxpayers of about $10 million a year.

Actually, the new Benson plan hasn't been more expensive than the old system. Reducing the administrative workload of the county committees has saved most of their pay and expenses. Giving the job to an office manager has put trained clerical help in their place. The net saving is estimated at $787,000 a year at the county level.

The system has been freshly complicated, however, by Benson's new rules for the election of committees. Instruction manuals soon to be issued show this as the process:

It will start in each community or township. The farmers in each area will elect three township committees. There are 86,000 of these community committees in the U. S. The chairman of each group will be delegated to a county convention, which will elect by secret ballot the county ASC committee.

Each county will have an election board to be made up of the county agent, the Farm Home administration agent, the Soil Conservation Service agent and the head of any recognized county farm organizations — Farm Bureau, Grange or Farmers' Union.

This county election board will appoint community election boards of three farmers (other than incumbent committee) to a community election board which will supervise the community election. These community election boards may serve as nominating committees if a community election meeting is not used.

If the nominating committee is used it will name a minimum of seven candidates for the county committee. If the community has more than 75 farmers, 10 candidates will be named, and any group of 10 farmers may by petition place the name of any other farmer on the ballot. Ballots are then mailed to voters.

The new gimmick in this system is the nominating committee. What it does is place the selection of candidates in the hands of the county agents and the farm organizations.

In addition, Benson has ruled that next year no more than one of the committees shall have served more than three years. The year after that, no committee shall have served more than three years.

The effect of these changes would appear to be a neat device for getting rid of the old committees who favor high price supports.

They may be gradually replaced by committees favoring the Benson farm policies. In the coming year, under the new crop quotas just announced, the work of these committees will be most important; Benson's hope and belief is that the new system will minimize national politics in running the county ASC program.

BABSON on BUSINESS

BABSON DISCUSSES LABOR SAVERS

Babson Park, Mass., July 2—

Readers wonder why I am optimistic as to the balance of the year. There are many reasons which I gave in my last week's Outlook. I now wish to emphasize the probable 1954 expenditures for new equipment and labor-saving machinery.

Although there is some reduction in the total income of wage-workers, it is mostly from reduction of hours and loss of overtime. This results in more leisure time and more money being spent on Do-It-Yourself improvements. This will stimulate retail sales.

There is no letup in the demand for office workers. They are becoming harder to get even at higher wages. Probably the demand from the government and from the various engineering sub-contractors is causing most of this; but the desire of present women workers to get married and have babies is a great factor.

Capital Expenditures

Expenditures for labor-saving devices are increasing, even though wages have stopped advancing. Companies are also enlarging their plants to make working conditions more pleasant and efficient. The attitude of employers is changing. It's not now a question of paying more wages; but of making the work lighter and the working environment more pleasant. I forecast continued large capital expenditures.

The gradual recognition of Cybernetics by manufacturers will cause a further scarcity of bookkeepers, stenographers, and other white-collar help. High school graduates have not heretofore liked to go into factory work because of the necessity of wearing old clothes and being classed as "common labor." But under the Cybernetic system, small machines by sitting at a mahogany desk in a silk dress, occasionally pushing a control button. This is easier and more interesting work than hitting a typewriter all day; and has a higher social rating.

'Extras' Help Business

Expenditures for these and other so-called "benefits" appear unnecessary, if not foolish, to the old-time employer; but we may well have to come to these and other attractions. Some concerns now have music playing all day for their employees, while many have television during the lunch hour. These "extras" are not necessarily supplied by socially-minded employers; but rather by hard-boiled, old-fashioned employers who must "loosen up" to hold their workers.

All these "extras" help general business. Retail sales have fallen off; but I forecast that labor-saving devices and these new expenditures for making working conditions more attractive will increase from now on. Profits in some lines of business will decline; but in other lines profits will increase. The entire picture is changing. People continue to have money to spend; but they are not spending it so freely for the same old things. Live manufacturers and progressive merchants should awake to this. Watch the coming change in advertising copy.

Warning to Wagerworkers

No employer can long spend more than he takes in, whether it is in wages or fringes. Cybernetics appeal to the few "fair-minded" who get the jobs to control a factory by push-buttons, but only a few such people will be needed in some factories and stores. It is okay for wage-workers to be well dressed; but they must work hard just the same. Business cannot coast much longer. Sooner or later the present "easy days" will be over. Machines can compensate for shorter hours and more pay; but those who tend these machines must give 100% in attention and worry in order to hold their new jobs.

The rise in the price of equipment stocks and labor-saving devices should be a warning to wage-workers. These companies are now getting huge orders; but the rising price of their stocks and bonds is a sure sign that many factories and offices are now approaching great changes. The new machines may not be delivered for a year or two years; but they are coming. This means that those who now have jobs—whether in offices or factories—had better hold onto them by doing good work. Don't be misled into a temporary "push job" at higher wages. You will regret it.

Playing Safe

Editor, The Freeman

We read much these days concerning holiday accidents—accidents of all kinds.

Since school is out and children are at maximum play, this article should be given personal attention by every citizen or parents interested in the safety of our children in this city or anywhere.

In our city of Kingston we boast of possessing more parks and playgrounds than any city in the state or nation considering its area and population.

Did we every stop to think of the danger involved of children playing in a cemetery?

I do not desire to be a pessimist but the circumstances as to my observation prompts me to be specific in this civic matter.

In the Albany Avenue cemetery, for example, children use it as a playground. One of the stones cylindrical (as a triangular prism) about six or seven feet tall has been moved from its position on the pedestal.

This stone weighs several hundred pounds, and one could imagine what a terrible tragedy would result for any child to be crushed to death, crippled or permanently injured as a result of this stone toppling to the ground. We know this could be true of any cemetery, but the Albany avenue cemetery where many decades of exposure to nature's elements exist, and these stones as markers could be just as dangerous.

Therefore, may I suggest that such areas to play be forbidden by our police department or any city ordinance permissible to enforce it.

It is important to avoid accidents of a tragic nature and this is one of them.

A child cannot acquire safety on his own; neither can an adult, hence we have traffic laws for our protection.

Let us take the matter seriously as citizens and parents who love children and are interested in their welfare, safety and protection at all times.

Sincerely yours

EDWIN J. HIGBY

Fire Forces 80
From Park Lodge

High Point, N. Y., July 3 (AP)—A fire at the state park lodge here early today forced 80 weekend guests to flee. None was injured.

John J. Gibbons, park superintendent, said an automatic fire alarm system sounded a warning of the blaze which roared through the top floor and roof of the three-story building.

Gibbons said the fire was started by a short circuit on the second floor of the stone and wood structure at 11 p. m.

Firemen from Colesville, Sussex, Port Jervis, N. Y., and Minnisink, N. Y., had the blaze under control by 2 a. m. They pumped water from Lake Marcia, about 800 feet away.

Gibbons estimated damage at $30,000.

The routed guests were housed in park cabins or at nearby tourist homes.

The lodge was built in 1911 on the estate of U. S. Senator John F. Dryden. The lodge and the estate were decided to the state by his heirs.

Plans Progressing
For Library Fair

Woodstock, July 3 — Library Fair committees have gone into high gear action as plans were announced at the meeting of chairmen and co-chairmen Thursday night at the library for the annual event to be held Thursday, July 29, beginning at 12 noon. With Mrs. Gertrude Robinson as co-chairman of the fair and with Mrs. Edward Marquardt and Mrs. Morris Klein, presiding, committees announced activities already rolling and plans soon to be in effect.

So great is the enthusiasm already generated, Mrs. Robinson said, that it is possible to discern, even at this early date the reason for its ultimate success. "It is really a town effort."

Miss Therese Kessel and Mrs. William K. Gregory, co-chairmen of the apron table, have issued a plea for more materials and braids—a yard or two to help fill out the supply of aprons. They and their committee have been and will be hard at work making as great a variety as possible to make the apron table an especially gay one this year.

Max Jean Angeli again will be in charge of the balloon stand, and this year special equipment is being constructed to make sure that the gas tanks are safely anchored for filling the balloons.

So great is the task of sorting as well as selling the clothing, which fills an enormously popular corner of the fair grounds, that Mrs. Elizabeth Clough, Mrs. Gilbert Schneider and Mrs. Carl T. Harrington, co-chairmen, will be assisted by a corps of 30 workers. Mrs. Herman Oxhandler and Mrs. Joseph Friedberg, co-chairmen of the book tables, are assisted by 20 helpers.

Mrs. Donald Waterous, collection center chairman, reminds the entire village that the center will be held in the Methodist Church Hall from 10 a. m. to 12, and from 2 to 5 p. m. for the remainder of the weekdays before the fair.

Genevieve Riela will be in charge of the table for children, and would appreciate donations of small new gifts as well as fancy wrapping paper and ribbons. Donations may be left at Riela's barber shop in the village.

Feature Well Staffed

The Great Expectations feature is now well staffed with Mrs. Hans J. Cohn, William J. Eisner and Morris Klein serving as co-chairmen, assisted by Alf Evers and Mrs. Penny Carlson.

Assisting Edward Marquardt, chairman, are Roger Cashdollar, George H. Laws, George Behrens, Clyde Elwyn and Albert Montgomery for refreshments.

From early morning on the day of the fair and throughout most of the day, Mrs. Margaret R. Kenyon will be at the library phone equipped to give out information. "The times have been separated this year from the rugs and draperies, with Mrs. Dudley Summers at the linen table as chairman, with Mrs. H. A. Wolter and Mrs. Jack Sturgis will be in charge of rugs.

Miska Petersham has assumed co-chairmanship with Thomas Dendy on the midway, assisted by Lewis Wilson, Walter Van Wageningen, and Joseph Fitzsimmons, town supervisor.

Serving at the merchant table will be Mrs. Ben Webster and Mrs. Hans J. Cohn, co-chairman, assisted by Mrs. Karl Schroeder and Mrs. Harmon Fischer.

A popular booth last year was Mrs. John Strible's, who will again set up for rapid action this year.

Jay Allen will make periodic inspections of the fair grounds as safety chairman.

WOODSTOCK—

Mrs. Elmer Rasmussen will be in charge of the table of shoes, and Mrs. Anna Nemes will officiate at the table dispensing shopping bags. The public address system will be provided by Einar's Radio Service.

Members of the Library board of trustees who will assist at the fair are: Herbert G. Wyman, Miss Anita Smith, Mrs. Searing Elzavert, Mrs. Frances Rogers, Mrs. Joshua Rosett, Miss Isabel Doughty, David Carlson, George Neher, Alf Evers, Miss Alice Wardwell, Mrs. Walter Weyl, Victor Lasher and Albert Wangler.

Sets Holiday Paint
Exhibit at Mead's

Woodstock, July 3—One of this village's most modest painters, Elizabeth C. Baker, who is extremely reluctant to talk about her artistic accomplishments. She has, however, disclosed a few facts about her most recent portrait, Laura, but it was her model she talked about, not herself. The painting will be on exhibition over the July 4 weekend at Mead Mountain House, together with another portrait of Mrs. Baker's that of Fletcher Simpkins. Also included in the exhibition are paintings by Judy Lund Wassmer and Ted Wassmer of Bearsville.

Laura is a portrait of Laura Weber, a precocious young actress with an enviable record of 250 performances in radio, television and on the stage. She has appeared with Walter Hampton, the Aldrich Family, Suspense, the Theatre Guild of the Air (in which she gave an outstanding performance last winter in their major show, Late Date). A frequent visitor to this village at the home of George Baumans, it was inevitable that she find herself posing for a portrait in Mrs. Baker's studio. Though she has been photographed and recorded since the age of four, when she made her debut with the King Coat Players, she has never before been painted.

Mrs. Baker's portrait depicts a winsome 17-year old girl, with much of the magnetism characteristic of the young actress. It is a creation of taste and restraint with all its strength of color.

Charges Dismissed
Against Teen-Agers

Charges against three teenagers who allegedly threw lighted firecrackers from a moving vehicle late last night were dismissed in city court this morning on a technicality.

The three were arrested on East Strand near Ferry street charged with disorderly conduct. Judge Raymond J. Mino ruled, however, that the charge was not the proper one.

Robert Gilson, 17, of Box 124, Rosendale, Lawrence Ricci, 16, of Box 321, Route 4, Kingston, and Albert Schmidt, 19, of Box 447, Route 4, Kingston, were arrested at 11:15 p. m. charged with throwing lighted firecrackers from a truck as they were proceeding south on Broadway near West O'Reilly street. They allegedly tossed the firecrackers onto the sidewalk in front of the New York Telephone Company building, thereby "disturbing several young ladies and a number of other pedestrians."

Two Other Arrests

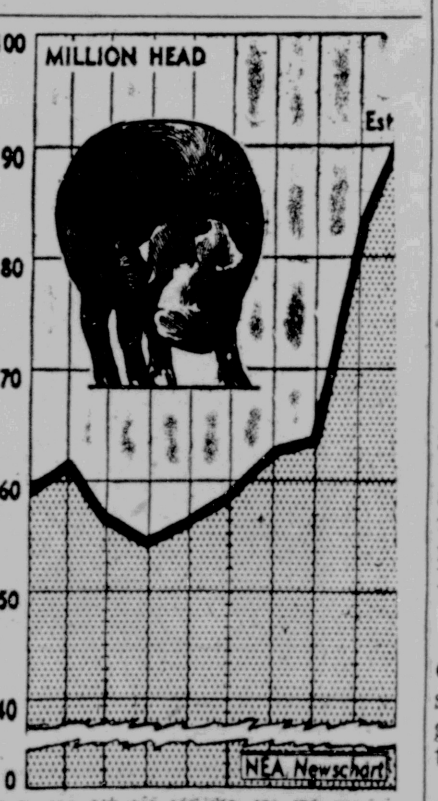

Maitland Collins, 69, of Rand Hotel, Highmount, who was arrested by Officer Kenneth Gaffney on Washington avenue near Hurley avenue at 6:25 p. m. yesterday charged with driving without an operator's license, forfeited $10 bail this morning when he failed to appear in city court. Collins was arrested after striking and damaging a traffic light at the intersection of Washington and Hurley avenues.

Red Cross Stresses

by following these general directions:

Don't move the injured person unless it is absolutely necessary. If he has a spinal injury or internal injuries, moving may make them worse.

Look for bleeding first. Most serious bleeding can be stopped by applying pressure directly on the wound. If the person has stopped breathing, begin artificial respiration immediately.

Help prevent shock by keeping the injured person lying flat until you know how serious his injuries are. Keep the victim from becoming chilled.

Give Clear Directions
Send someone to call a doctor or an ambulance. Give clear directions on location of the accident and the nature, cause and probably extent of the injuries. If it's a traffic accident, post somebody in the road to prevent traffic jams.

Keep him comfortable and cheerful if possible. Never give liquids of any kind to an unconscious person.

Keep onlookers away from the victim. They won't do him any good and may interfere with proper care.

Be prepared for the next time. Enroll in a first aid course offered through your local Red Cross chapter.

Four Are Killed

Brooklyn. Edith Lubowsky, about 30, his wife.

Barry Lubowsky, 9, his son. A fifth occupant of the car, Murray Lubowsky, 12, whose family was wiped out in the crash, was hospitalized in nearby Suffern, N. Y., in critical condition.

The driver of the bus, Curtis Clark, of Hackensack, N. J., was admitted to the same hospital with a gash in the head and a possible broken ankle.

Near N. Y. Line
The accident occurred just south of the New York state line on a four-lane section of the highway near the site of New Ford Motor Co. plant.

Lt. Theodore Wickman of the Mahwah police said both vehicles were hugging the outside lanes; the bus going south and the car heading north toward the state line. He said the car, driven by Gehlik, nosed slightly over the dividing line and smashed head-on into the big bus shortly before 5:30 a. m. The vehicles were telescoped and had to be pried apart by a wrecker and another truck. The victims were pronounced dead at the scene by Dr. Demarest Beers of Suffern.

On Way to Garage
The bus, owned by the Inter-City Transportation Co. of Paterson, was on its way back to the garage after carrying weekenders to a resort.

State police said northbound traffic on Route 17 was backed up 10 miles to the junction of Rt. 4 and several more miles on Rt. 4 itself. Rt. 4 is the main highway from New York City.

Southbound traffic across the line was diverted at Suffern to the Franklin turnpike.

Friends may call at the funeral home Monday afternoon and evening.

Trooper Kept Busy

Troopers, who were kept busy all night with accident reports, were unable to complete the report and could not state whether the driver Decker, was injured.

A trooper at the Highland station said the accident calls were received with such frequency that it was impossible to keep the reports up to date and troopers were busy this morning completing investigations of at least three accidents, none, except the Galeville fatality, apparently was serious.

Bus Over Bank

The period of unusual activity began at 2:30 p. m. Friday when a bus was struck by a truck and pushed down an embankment on Route 9W south of Kingston. Ambulances rushed 10 persons to Kingston Hospital. A check at the hospital today disclosed that all of them were released after treatment and none appeared to be seriously hurt.

By contrast, troopers at the Kingston and Ellenville stations reported they had "a quiet night." Traffic in those areas was heavy but only a few minor accidents were reported.

The major change made by the Senate, and the issue likely to cause the biggest fight in conference, was to knock out of the bill most of the proposed relief to stockholders on dividend income.

The Senate left in the bill only the $50 exemption of such income from taxation. As passed by the House, the provision would have allowed a stockholder to deduct from his tax 5 per cent of his dividend income in the first year of the bill; from the second year on, he could get exemption on $100 of dividend income and deduct from his tax 10 per cent of such income above $100.

Democrats charged in the debate the section would be of benefit mainly to the wealthy. Republicans replied that it was a needed stimulus to get more capital for business through stock sales, and also would partly double taxation.

Farmers Assured

thorized the statement, Dewey added that he himself was in favor of the regulations.

Dewey also repeated his support for flexible government price supports for farm products as the only way to avoid surpluses that he said were "becoming a serious menace to agriculture."

However, he said he told Benson that if New York farmers had to pay prices pegged at 90 per cent of parity for midwestern corn, they were entitled to prices pegged at 90 per cent of parity for their dairy products.

"No one section should be penalized" in a flexible support system, Dewey said in summary.

Widow Accepts Request

Honolulu, July 3 (AP)—A Republican request to be a candidate in the special July 31 election to choose a successor to the late Rep. Joseph R. Farrington has been accepted by his widow, Elizabeth. Democrats have yet to announce whether they will have a candidate.

Market Nears '29

well. As the year opened everyone was talking about a business recession, and business did indeed recede. The market completely ignored this, however, leading Wall Street observers to suggest that it had discounted this year's business hesitancy last year and was looking far ahead.

In any event, the market went through a severe shakeout in the first nine months of last year and hit bottom in mid-September. It's been going up, with only an occasional mild correction, ever since.

Encouraging Signs

There were plenty of developments to encourage the market. Back in January, General Motors launched a two billion dollar expansion program, a move that helped the market.

The end of the excess profits tax helped some companies report better earnings. And as a whole, earnings and dividends maintained good levels throughout the six-month period.

There were two other helpful developments in Washington—tax cuts and defense spending.

The end of the excess profits tax helped some companies report better earnings. And as a whole, earnings and dividends maintained good levels throughout the six-month period.

War Upset Market

The Indochina war upset the market occasionally, but in the end traders and investors took to ignoring it. The trend was upward and they wanted to get aboard.

Corrections were few and far between. The heaviest came in early June and the AP average dropped $2.90 in its biggest decline in four years. Before the month was over, however, the average moved to new high levels again.

See New High Ahead

Market analysts are still talking about the need for a good-sized correction, but most are optimistic about the longer term. They think new highs are ahead.

The most active stock this week was General Electric, which lost 1/4 at 46 1/2 on a turnover of 177,200 shares. Radio Corp. gained 1/4 at 30 1/2 on 148,900 shares; Chrysler was up 2 1/2 at 65 1/2 on 146,600 shares. U. S. steel rose 1 at 49 1/2 on 106,900 shares and Reynolds Tobacco B dropped 1 1/2 at 33 1/2 on 102,600 shares.

On the American Stock Exchange, Ford Motor of France led the most active list with a gain of 3/16 at 1 1/2 on 141,800 shares. Webb & Knapp was unchanged at 1 1/2 on 95,600 shares; Fifth Sterling up 1/4 at 2 1/2 on 65,900 shares and Electric Bond & Share up 1/4 at 22 on 58,800 shares.

cash. She rushed to the police station to return the money.

"But not a dime of it goes back to a preacher like you, coming to Dallas to cavort with women like me!" she boomed. She gave the roll to detectives and warned them the red-faced clergyman was not to be trusted with church funds.

Turned Shop-Lifter

When times got hard, and men with playing money became fewer during the depression, Maud turned back to shop-lifting, with which she started her crime career in 1917. More and more she turned to narcotics.

Despite almost daily arrests during the thirties, Maud stoutly proclaimed she liked policemen. She proved it one night when a patrolman was attacked on a dark street by two hoodlums he tried to arrest.

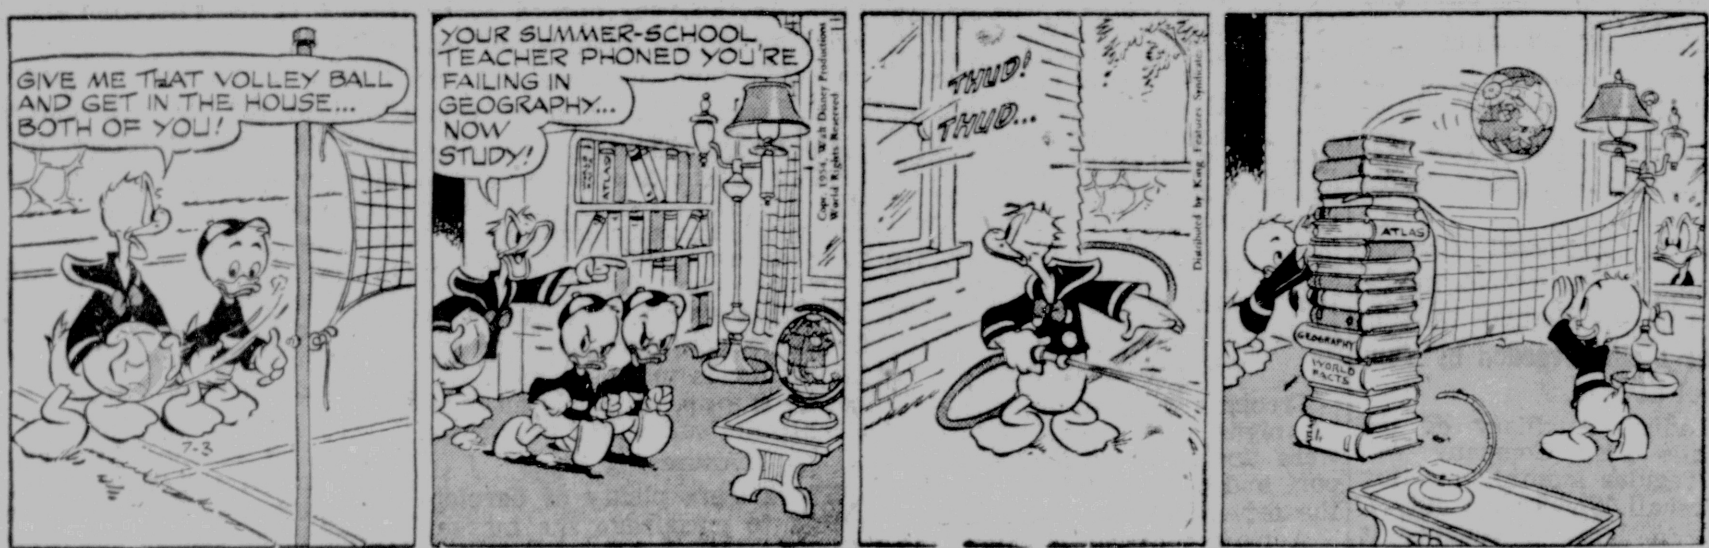

Maud happened by in her big car and came out fighting. Together, she and the officer took two thugs to jail, one badly marked by Maud's finger nails and high-heeled shoes.

Drive to Restore Juliette Low Birthplace

A national fund raising drive will attempt restoration of the birthplace of the founder of Girl Scouting, Juliette Gordon Low, at Savannah, Ga.

Ulster County Girls Lead Drive to Found National Scout Center

Girl Scouts of Ulster county, as well as all interested adults may participate with Girl Scouts all over the country in a project to purchase and restore the birthplace and childhood home of the founder of Girl Scouting, Juliette Gordon Low, at Savannah, Ga.

A national fund-raising drive has been launched, with a goal of $500,000 to cover the purchase price, restoration and furnishing of the house, as well as to provide an endowment to ensure its future maintenance as a national Girl Scout Center. All adults in Scouting have been invited to contribute to the fund drive as individuals or in groups. Troops also may participate if they wish to do so.

Juliette Gordon Low's birthplace was built in 1821 by the architect William Jay. It has always been one of the outstanding homes in Savannah, and in addition to its significance to Girl Scouts as the birthplace of childhood home of Juliette Gordon Low it is acknowledged to be a fine example of American architecture in Regency style. Because the Gordon family was active in civic and community affairs in Savannah, many famous men visited their home, including Admiral George Dewey and Presidents William Howard Taft and William McKinley. Historically, the birthplace has been owned by members of the Gordon family from shortly after it was built to December 1953, when the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. purchased it.

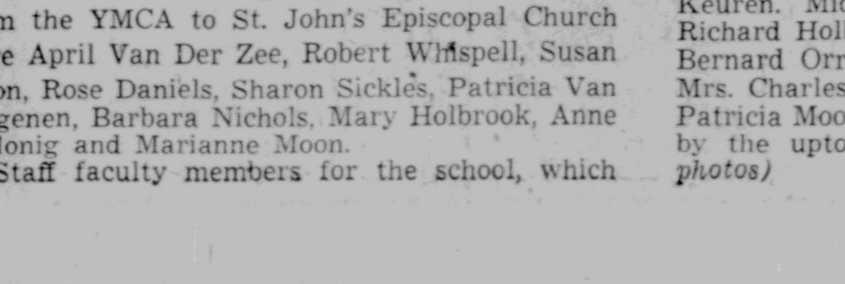

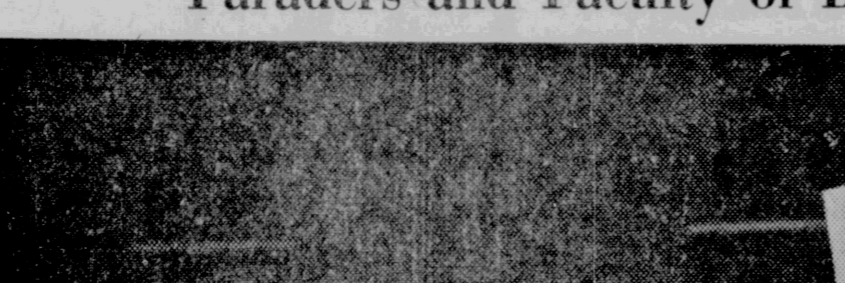

More than a monument to the past, the birthplace will also be used as a laboratory of modern Girl Scouting where girls from all parts of the United States will be welcomed with Girl Scout hospitality and will find inspiration in learning about the achievements of sister Scouts throughout the country.

Contributions may be sent to the Girl Scout office Kingston, or to Mrs. David Ennis, 86 Roosevelt avenue, Kingston, Ulster County Fund Raising Chairman.

Dentist Exonerated

New York, July 3 (AP)—A married dentist was exonerated yesterday of charges that he forced laughing gas on a shapely blonde under so he could make passes at her while she was asleep. "She is a story that I consider to be inherently incredible, utterly fantastic and one which defies human belief," said Magistrate J. win Shapiro in dismissing an assault charge against Dr. Shepard Lindenman, 37. The dancer, Renita Kreslins, 28, burst into tears at his verdict and sobbed: "There is no justice." She claimed the assault took place June 14 in Dr. Lindenman's office. He denied administering gas without her consent or molesting her. Three other doctors testified that the gas sometimes brings on hallucinations.

FHA Increases

Washington, July 3 (AP)—Applications for federally-insured home improvement loans, a target for a Senate inquiry into the reported multi-million dollar federal housing scandal, rose to 150,000 last month. Norman P. Mason, acting Federal Housing Administration (FHA) commissioner, said yesterday this figure represents an increase over May, despite the barring of "luxury" items from improvements eligible for FHA-backed loans. Restrictions were placed on home improvement loans after the White House several months ago said it had evidence of irregularities in this field and in a now-expired program granting FHA-insurance to apartment projects loans. Mason also announced that applications for housing mortgage insurance—also subject to new restrictions—last month increased 20 per cent over June, 1953, to a total of 55,000.

County Tournament Set For Legion Junior Nine

Kingston and Saugerties will meet in a three-game series to determine Ulster county's representative in the state American Legion Junior baseball competition, it was learned today.

Announcing a 16-player roster for the Old Capital Motors Legion squad, Manager Tommy Maines said dates for a best-of-three playoff with Saugerties would be set in the near future.

John Lowther of Saugerties is the county Legion baseball chairman.

Winner of the Kingston-Saugerties series will take on the winner of the Catskill-Hoosick playoff in first round of play in the District 3 tournament.

Five holdovers, including pitchers Jack Houghtaling and Bob Maines, are listed among Kingston's 16 players. The others are James Jackson, Palmer "Skip" Brodhead and Ronnie Ashdown.

The remainder of the squad will include Ronnie Ferraro, Joseph White, Jack Redmond, Alo Saluste, Edward Hearst, John Cuijak, Bob Raible, Robert Dykes, Jacob Senor and Arthur Moshis.

The Old Capitals advanced to the semi-finals of District 3 last year when they lost to Amsterdam, 2-0. Superb pitching marked their play in 1953.

Manager Tommy Maines says this year's team will have superlative pitching and good power.

50 Club's Annual Field Day Sunday at Block Park

The "50" Club will entertain approximately 700 children at its sixth annual picnic and field day Sunday, July 4, at 1 p. m. at Block Park. In case of rain, the program will be held Monday.

A series of field events are scheduled for boys and girls ranging from 5 years and under to the senior group of 15-16 years. The events include 40, 50 and 100-yard dashes, three-legged races, wheelbarrow races, yale lock races, football throw and rolling pin throw.

Last year approximately 2,500 hotdogs and bottles of pop and several gallons of ice cream were consumed by the kids.

Winners of the first three places in each event will receive trophies. There will be five first place trophies donated by the Kingston Power Boat Association. Yank Albrecht will serve as prize captain.

Since the publication of the feature story on 8-year-old Billy Schultz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Addison Schultz, formerly of Kingston, we've been besieged by inquiries about Billy.

Well, Billy didn't make the Little League team, but Al De Santis, sports editor of the Schenectady Union Star, reports that he was kept on as batboy for the Covell-Goodyear team.

"Billy didn't make the grade as a player," DeSantis said. "Few people expected that he would, but Billy must be the most enthusiastic batboy in all of Little League baseball."

Flotsam and Jetsam:

Know how Libby Manzo, a virtual unknown in championship circles, got the chance to meet Sandy Saddler Monday night at St. Nick's Arena? By knocking out Sammy Guiliani, a good journeyman name fighter from Stamford, in a sparring drill. It happened the day Floyd Patterson asked for a postponement of a scheduled bout at St. Nick's. Promoter Tex Sullivan whipped up the idea of a Saddler-Manzo contest and phoned Boxing Commissioner Robert K. Christenberry for approval. Christenberry was hesitant but when apprised of Libby's kayo over Guiliani (and it was a clean knock-out), the Commissioner waved the green flag. Manzo (the former Libby Manzo) of the amateurs will be a heavy underdog.

Same Old Cholly:

While the Giants were giving the Dodgers their lumps, it was time for a voice from the west coast. "Brooklyn oughtta win again," said Cholly Dressen and loyal Gowan rosters will not view this as the kiss of death. "We won 105 games last year and the club should be stronger now that the youngsters have more experience. And don't forget that Brooklyn has Don Newcombe firing them this season. . . . Sure the Giants are playing good ball, but we beat them by 35 games last year and they're not much better. . . . How do you like that? Incidentally, whatever became of all that newspaper talk about trading Wes Westrum. The situation parallels that on the Yankees where Casey Stengel has been trying five years to find a first baseman to replace Joe Collins. But when the chips are down, Joe Collins is on first base. Same way with Westrum and the Giants. The Calderones, Ybars and Katts come and go but, in the clutch, it's Westrum.

MUSCLE MAN: Dick DuBois, 21-year-old Poughkeepsian, has won the Mr. America title at Los Angeles. This is the most prized title in muscle building. Salient statistics: He is single, 6 feet 1 inch, weighs 215 and has a 31-in. chest. Mrs. Austin Boyd of Twaitskill won second place in Class C low gross at the Dutchess Invitational with 103 Mrs. Terry Staples tied for Class C net honors with 107-33-74. Don Johnson is a major league hurler now, says Casey Stengel, because he added four or five pitches to his once lone fast ball and learned how to hold runners on base. . . . The Ms have it in the power department. . . . Mays, Mantle, Mathews. . . and a guy by the name of Marciano.

Richards Trails In the Decathlon

Atlantic City, N. J., July 3 (AP)—Although he trailed in third place at the halfway mark, the Rev. Bob Richards was expected to steam ahead today and win his second National A.A.U. decathlon championship.

"I think I'll still win," said the 28-year-old Olympic pole vaulting champion after he wound up 289 points behind rangy Jim Podoley of Central Michigan College and 112 points behind 19-year-old Aubrey Lewis of the Kearny (N. J.) A.C., last night at Bader Field.

Podoley, a 20-year-old sophomore who won the Kansas Relays decathlon, led the field of 23 with 3,831 points after the completion of the 100-meter dash, broad jump, shotput, high jump and 400-meter run. Lewis, just graduated from Montclair, N. J., High School, had 3,654 points while the favored Richards compiled 3,542.

Ferraro Crowned State Singles Champ

Veteran Ace Wins Coveted Title With 693 Score

First Area Kegler To Win Such Honor

JOHNNY FERRARO
Word was received here yesterday that Johnny Ferraro has been certified as the New York State singles bowling champion for 1954.

The Bowlodrome proprietor captured the coveted crown with a 693 blast in the recent state tournament at Rochester.

It was Ferraro's first such title and marked the first time the crown has ever been won by an area bowler.

Joe Cervoni and Joe Cimmaro of Newburgh copped a state doubles crown in the pre-war period.

According to George Obenauer, the NYSA secretary, Ferraro will receive a solid gold ring and a cash award.

Although the state bowling association operates a handicap tournament annually, the low gross scores in each division are recognized as state champions.

Ferraro moves into an elite group of keggers who have won that title, among them Junie McMahon, Mort Lindsey, Joe Falcaro, George Young and others.

MRO Women Trounce Sprague Electric, 23-8

Metropolitan Recreation Organization's women's softball team trounced Sprague Electric, 23-8, in its seasonal opener at Hutton Park.

Joan Bruckner was the winning pitcher, with Lorraine DiPasquale tossing for the losers. Josephine DeMicco hit a homer for MRO.

Feller Clicking for Key Wins; Giants Boost Lead to 5 Games

By BEN PHLEGAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bobby Feller may yet get another chance to win a World Series game, one of the few triumphs that has eluded him during his brilliant pitching career.

At the ripe old age of 35 the Cleveland righthander who came off an Iowa farm 19 summers ago with just about the fastest fast ball the majors ever saw is proving a vital factor in the Indians' pennant bid.

He doesn't work often any more and when he does he has to rely on craft and guile instead of blazing speed. But he continues to be successful and might very well get the call in a long series. Cleveland has been in only one World Series since Feller joined the club. He lost twice in 1948 to the old Boston Braves.

Gets Fifth Win

Last night he turned 'in his fifth victory of the season, checking the Chicago White Sox 3-2 on four hits in the opener of a twilight-night doubleheader. The Indians grabbed the nightcap, too, 5-4, and dumped the challenging Chicagoans into third place.

Feller got some vital help from Larry Doby who contributed a 400-foot home run to tie the score in the sixth inning and then singled home the second run in the eighth. Doby hit his 13th homer of the season with the score tied and two men aboard in the fifth inning of the second game.

The New York Yankees crept in the side door into second place although they split their 13th consecutive doubleheader. After beating Washington 6-5 in 11 innings, they bowed 7-4 to rookie Dean Stone who won his seventh against a single loss. The Yankees haven't captured a twin bill since August of last season.

Giants Lead By Five

The New York Giants stretched their National League lead to five full games. They whipped Pittsburgh 9-5 with a five-run rally in the seventh inning and Brooklyn lost its fourth straight, this time 7-6 to the Philadelphia Phillies.

In other National League action Milwaukee beat Cincinnati twice, 11-4 and 2-1 and Chicago edged St. Louis 7-6.

Elsewhere in the American League Boston thumped Philadelphia 8-4 and Baltimore used a three-hit shutout by Joe Coleman to turn back Detroit 2-0.

Berra Yanks Hero

In the Yankee's first game victory, Yogi Berra singled home the tieing run in the last of the ninth and came through again in the 11th with a single that scored Bob Cerv with the winning tally.

The Senator's second game victory gave them a 6-5 season's edge over the world champions. The Giants and Dodgers both tried rookie pitchers last night and neither one survived. Ramon Monzant threw three no-hit innings for the Giants in Pittsburgh but had to be yanked during a four-run Pittsburgh rally in the fourth. Dusty Rhodes delivered the Giants' big inning.

Pete Wojey, just up from Mobile, started for Brooklyn and lasted until the fifth in Philadelphia. The big blow for the Phillies, however, was a three run homer by Del Ennis off Clem Labine in the eighth.

Home runs produced the Milwaukee victories. Eddie Mathews hit two in the first game, when Henry Aaron and Joe Adcock got one apiece. In the second game Del Crandall's fifth inning homer off Fred Baczewski provided the winning margin.

PRIMER FOR AMERICANS

You live in the United States of America. You are an American.

Real Americans like their country. They are proud of it. They think it is a good place to live. And they want to keep it good—to keep it getting better all the time.

Why is America the way it is? What makes it a good place to live? The answer is simply this:

Throughout our history most Americans have believed that every person has certain rights and duties and responsibilities.

Americans have believed that there are certain things people should do, and things they should not do.

They have also believed in certain things that people are, and are not.

These things that people believe are called principles. This book is an attempt to state the Principles of America in simple, primer fashion so that you can understand them, learn them, and remember them.

This is important. It was because earlier Americans believed in these principles and guided their lives by them, that America has grown to be the good place it is.

If all of us learn and remember these principles—if we also guide our lives by them—then we can help to keep America growing better, and better, and better.

And if we follow these Principles of America, we can help make the world a better place to live in, too.

The Principles of America are these . . .

1. Each Person is of Importance and Value as an Individual.

This is the cornerstone . . . the foundation of all our other beliefs in a person's right to live his own life, to speak for himself, to choose and change his leaders.

From it comes our hatred of those "isms" under which the individual has no value or importance as a person, but is only one of many unimportant people who have to live the way their leaders tell them to.

Coming directly from that first principle are two others that are also part of the foundation of Americanism.

2. We Believe that All Men should Enjoy Personal Freedom.

3. We Believe that All Men are Created Equal.

It is worth noting that the Declaration of Independence expressed the belief that "all men are created equal." It did not state or imply a belief that men develop equally or have equal ability, or that they should ever be forced to an exact equality of thought, speech or material possessions.

That would be equality without freedom. Americans have always believed the two should go together.

In our Constitution, and in other laws of our land, there are set down principles to protect the rights and freedoms and equality of individuals.

4. The Right to Freedom of Speech.

This includes freedom of the press, of radio, of motion pictures, of every means by which man may express his thoughts.

5. The Right to Freedom of Assembly.

As we believe in the right of individual action, so we believe that individuals should be free to act together.

6. The Right to Freedom of Worship.

Not only is the individual free to worship as he will, but religions themselves are free and equal.

7. The Right to Security of Person and Property.

Not just one, but three Amendments to the Constitution (4th, 5th and 14th) protect against illegal search and seizure, or loss of life, liberty, or property, without "due process of law."

8. The Right to Equal Protection before the Law.

As individuals are equally important, so laws must apply equally to all, without special privileges for any group.

9. The Right to Freedom from Slavery.

This includes "the right to quit," for no individual may be forced to work for another.

10. The Right to Petition the Government.

The right of the individual to "petition the government for redress of grievances" is evidence of the American belief that government is the servant, not the master, of the people.

11. The Right to Vote for people of your choice.

This is the individual's most potent weapon in the protection of his rights and freedoms . . . a weapon that to be effective must be constantly and wisely used.

Other Principles hold that every man has . . .

12. The Right to a Good Education.

13. The Right to Live where he pleases.

14. The Right to Work where he wants to.

15. The Right to Belong to an Organization.

16. The Right to Own Property.

17. The Right to Start his Own Business.

18. The Right to Manage his Own Affairs.

19. The Right to Make a Profit or to Fail, depending on his Own Ability.

There are other, similar rights of individual action which are Principles of America, but all of these individual rights may be combined in these two broad principles . . .

20. Every Man is entitled to Freedom and Equality of Opportunity.

21. Every Man may Earn his Living When, Where, and How he wants to.

There are also Limiting Principles . . .

Principles of individual freedom sometimes clash with those of individual equality. Therefore our rights as individuals must be limited, and those limitations are themselves principles.

22. The Rights of any Individual shall not Interfere with those of Other Individuals.

Your right to swing your arms stops where the other fellow's nose starts.

23. The Rights of any Individual shall not Interfere with the Welfare of the People.

Freedom of speech does not give the individual the right to shout "fire" in a crowded theatre.

24. Every Individual owes Obedience to the Laws under which he Lives.

The individual has the right to talk against a law, to work and vote to change that law, but NOT to disobey that law.

Principles that are Patterns of Behavior . . .

Many of our principles of individual freedom and equality are guaranteed to us by law. But we have other beliefs, other general rules of action and conduct that have grown to the status of principles. And these too, are foundations of Americanism.

25. A Man shall be Judged by his Own Record.

A man's family background, his race or his religion, is not as important as what that man himself can do, for Americans believe a man must stand on his own feet.

26. A Man is Free to Achieve as much as he can.

We believe that where any boy may become President, where any man may achieve greatness, there is the greatest incentive for every man to do his best.

27. To Achieve anything, a Man should be Willing to Work.

Americans have always known that "you don't get something for nothing," that to get anything takes a willingness to work.

28. Achievement also Depends upon the Ability to do a Good Job.

Add to "willingness to work" the ability to produce results and the combination is the basis for most individual achievement in our country.

29. Every Man has the Right to a Fair Share of the Results of his Work and his Ability.

Because of this belief, America has not only produced more goods, but they have been more fairly and more widely shared by more people than in any other country.

30. Security is the Ability of a Man to Provide for himself.

The only true security for any individual is the opportunity, the ability, and the determination to work and plan and save for his own present and future. Self-reliance is vital to individual independence and personal freedom. No man can be "proud and free" who depends on others for his security.

31. When an Individual cannot Provide his own Security, the Responsibility should be Assumed by Others.

We believe that no one should starve, or be without adequate clothing and shelter, so those who have more than their basic needs share the responsibility of providing the essentials of security for those who need help.

32. Each Individual must Deal Fairly with others.

Honesty, fairness, and personal integrity are virtues that help free and independent individuals get along with each other without losing their independence.

33. Fair and Free Competition is a Good Thing.

Americans have always believed that competition among individuals or groups encourages greater effort which in turn brings greater benefits to all.

34. Cooperation among Individuals is Vital.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER has said: "The freedom to compete vigorously accompanied by a readiness to cooperate wholeheartedly for the performance of community and national functions, together make our system the most productive on earth."

Principles of Individual Responsibility . . .

Freedom for individuals carries with it an equal responsibility to use that freedom wisely. If we wish to remain free, we must faithfully fulfill this responsibility.

35. The Individual is Responsible for himself and his Family.

He must protect them and provide for their present and future well-being.

36. The Individual has Responsibilities to the Groups of which he is a Part.

He must give of his best to his community, his church, his employer, his union, and to every group in which individuals cooperate for their mutual benefit.

37. The Individual has Responsibilities to his Country.

He must be an active citizen, interesting himself in local, state, and national government, voting wisely, thinking and speaking and acting to preserve and strengthen freedom, equality and opportunity for every individual.

38. The Individual has Responsibilities to the World.

Man's horizons have expanded. What happens in the world affects him, and his actions can affect the world. Today, therefore, each man has a responsibility to act—and to encourage his country to act—so that freedom and cooperation will be encouraged among the people and the nations of the world.

For America's Future

Most of us have faith in our country's ability to move forward, to improve, to grow, to provide more and more individuals with more and more of everything they want and need in life . . .

If we, the people of the United States, want to have more material benefits, we must believe in and follow these two principles:

39. The only way we can Have More is to Produce More; and

40. As we Produce More, we must make it possible for More and More People to Enjoy that which we Produce.

If we, the people of the United States, want to have a better life, spiritually as well as materially . . .

41. We must stand firmly for our Beliefs, our Rights, our Principles.

There are those who would chip away our confidence so that their special brand of tyranny might creep into America. They must not succeed. So, let us ask of every plan, or act, or idea . . .

Is it With or Against the Principles of America?

Haas and Mayer Tied at Detroit

Detroit, July 3 (AP)—Fred Haas of New Orleans and Dick Mayer of St. Petersburg, Fla., each cured an ailment, shot sub-par golf and led a field of 72 players into today's third round of the Motor City Open.

The 38-year-old Haas, using an atomizer to cure a ten-year siege of hay fever, carded a four-under-par 67 in yesterday's second round for a 71-67—138 total.

Mayer, a quiet 29-year-old iron age, followed with a five under par 66—the best round of the tournament—and posted a 72-66—138. He straightened out a slicing ailment which possibly cost him the National Open championship two weeks ago.

The Appalachian Mountains extend from the Gulf of St. Lawrence to Alabama.

Sports of the Day

(IN BRIEF)

(By The Associated Press)

Wimbledon, England—Jaroslav Drobny, 32-year-old exiled Czech now living in Egypt, won the Wimbledon men's singles championship by defeating 19-year-old Ken Rosewall of Australia, 13-11, 4-6, 6-2, 9-7.

Cincinnati—Ed Rubinoff of Miami Beach, Fla., upset Billy Talbert of New York 6-3, 3-6, 6-1 in the third round of the tri-state tournament.

Golf

Peabody, Mass.—Babe Didrickson Zaharias shot a one-under-par 71 to take a seven-stroke lead with a 143 total at the halfway mark of the women's national open tournament.

Detroit—Dick Mayer of St. Petersburg, Fla., and Freddie Haas of New Orleans shared the lead at the halfway point of the motor city open, each with 138.

Track

Atlantic City, N. J.—Jim Podoley, a sophomore at Central Michigan College, grabbed a 177 point lead in the first half of the national A.A.U. decathlon championships.

Crew

Henley-on-Thames, England—The Massachusetts Institute of Technology eight reached the semi-finals of the Thames challenge cup event at the Royal Henley regatta.

Racing

New York—Haviland ($430) won the Bossuet purse, a five and a half furlong allowance sprint at Aqueduct.

Oceanport, N. J.—Count Flame ($720) broke the track record for the mile and a sixteenth at Monmouth Park while winning the Cavalcade purse in 1:43.

Coxsackie Track Cards Stock Aces

With the many new cars appearing each Sunday night at Coxsackie Speedway it makes the throne rest uneasy on the heads of Doug Garrison, Link Pettit, Joe Messina, and Chuck Irving.

Such stellar drivers as Bob Bailey, Bobby Devine, Hal "Pappy" McCarthy, and popular Stubby Smith, will keep the Coxsackie speedsters constantly on their toes if they intend to keep their monopoly at this popular oval.

All these drivers and many others will be out the 4th of July at 8:30 p.m. to take part in the card of races, topped by a 30-lap feature.

Babe Zaharias Leads by Seven

Peabody, Mass., June 3 (AP)—Babe Zaharias carried a seven stroke lead into the final 36 holes of the Women's National Open golf tournament today as she pitted her limited endurance against the other 39 qualifiers.

The Babe had a one-under-par 71 yesterday for a 143 halfway point total on Salem Country Club's par 36-36, 72 course.

The chief threat to the hard-hitting Mrs. Zaharias appeared to come from defending champion Betsy Rawls of Spartansburg, S. C., a veteran come-from-behind finisher. Betsy completed her second round with a strong 73 over the testing 6,393 yard layout for a 150.

Favored Casanova Wins at Roosevelt

Westbury, July 3 (AP)—Casanova captured the featured $4,000 Oceanside Pace at Roosevelt Raceway last night by a neck over Stanton Hal, winning in 2:11.4 over the mile and one-sixteenth route. Mighty Boy was third.

The 6-year-old brown horse owned by the Craig Ranch of Leamington, Cal., and driven by Dana Cameron, was the favorite in the contest and returned $5.90, $3.10 and $2.70 across the board.

Raymond Lowe, 50, of 212 Hasbrouck avenue, who was arrested charged with leaving the scene of an accident pleaded guilty yesterday in city court before Judge Raymond J. Mino who set Tuesday for sentencing. Bail was fixed at $300. It was charged that Lowe, operating a truck owned by the E. T. JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Advice Changes As Time Goes By

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

There was a time when a good bridge player was advised not to reopen the bidding when the opponents had stopped below game. There was always the risk, ran the old advice, of giving the opponents a second chance to bid their game.

Nowadays the advice all runs in the opposite direction. If the opponents fail to bid a game, they almost surely cannot make one. Hence the good bridge player is advised to reopen the bidding, even when he has a fairly weak hand.

When the reopening bid is made on a really good hand, however, the opener must find some way to show his true strength. As we see in today's hand, this can be done by means of a jump bid. North naturally raises, and South proceeds on to game.

West opens the king of hearts holding the trick, and then shifts to the queen of clubs. The game is now not very easy to make, since it would be very simple to lose a heart, two diamonds and a club by routine play.

If South plays the hand correctly, he develops his tenth trick in a rather unusual way and in a rather unusual suit. After winning the second trick with the ace of clubs, South must lead a heart from dummy and discard a club from his hand.

West wins with the jack of hearts and returns a club, but South can ruff. Thus far, South has merely given the enemy a heart trick in exchange for the club that they otherwise would have taken.

Declarer continues by leading two rounds of trumps, ending in the dummy, and now another heart is led. Once more South discards instead of ruffing. West can win the trick with the ace of hearts, but now dummy's last heart is established. Nothing can stop declarer from getting to dummy with a trump to cash the last heart and discard his last losing diamond.

Anderson assured them they were wrong and to emphasize the "hospitality" of his home town, installed them in his private guest room at the hotel he owns. Checking the room after the couple left the next day, Anderson found the towels and bath mat gone.
